This month, we're looking for students who exhibit creativity.

Congratulations, Ms. Evans!

We would like to congratulate our very own third grade math teacher, Ms. Aurndrea Evans, for publishing her first children's book! The book, "I am Loved," teaches the invaluable lesson that you are loved no matter what your family looks like. The book is available for purchase at authorhouse.com, Amazon, and Barnes & Noble.

CSRA Humane Society Donations

To celebrate the 100th day of school, Goshen Elementary School collected items to donate to the animals currently living at the CSRA Humane Society. As always, Goshen families showed their generosity and support for our furry friends who are searching for a new home. Way to go, team!!

STEAM Book of the Month: Beautiful Oops

Such a fun book! This interactive books shows it's okay to make a mistake and, with some creativity, you can even turn a mistake into something else. Now whenever Lucy makes a 'mistake', I often hear her say, "Beautiful oops!"

KEY VOCABULARY - Possibilities- having many different choices and options to choose from; Smudge - a dirty mark or smear; Oops – something we say when we make a mistake, sort of an apology to show we are sorry

• How can an "oops" be beautiful? • Ask if they remember someone saying "oops," or if they remember saying, "oops." • What happened that made someone say, "oops?" • How did you react after making a mistake? • After making a mistake, how can we be more positive with ourselves and our friends?
