2. DATA COLLECTION ANALYSIS

2.6 Data Analysis Questions

Analyze the LEA's data and answer the guiding questions to determine existing trends and patterns that support the identification of demographic and financial needs. Student subgroups with a count of less than 15 are denoted by "TFS" (too few students).

What perception data did you use? [examples: student perceptions about school climate issues (health survey, violence, prejudice, bullying, etc.); student/parent perceptions about the effectiveness of programs or interventions; student understanding of relationship of school to career or has an academic plan]	Student Climate Health Survey Data Panorama
What does the perception data tell you? (perception data can describe people's knowledge, attitudes, beliefs, perceptions, competencies; perception data can also answer the question "What do people think they know, believe, or can do?")	Students for grades 6-12 have issues with self-efficacy (54% of students have issues with self-efficacy). Due to the new grading policy, students get behind in their grades and feel that they cannot overcome the insurmountable amount of work that needs to be completed in order to be successful.
What process data did you use? (examples: student participation in school activities, sports, clubs, arts; student participation in special programs such as peer mediation, counseling, skills conferences; parent/student participation in events such as college information meetings and parent workshops)	Students participated in sports, arts, and leadership based clubs (i.e.; Beta Club) and skill building classes hosted by our counseling department. Parents have also been included in various PTO activities.
What does the process data tell you? (process data describes the way programs are conducted; provides evidence of participant involvement in programs; answers the question "What did you do for whom?")	Teachers, students, and parents are invested in the school, as demonstrated by their participation in school and community related events.

What achievement data did you use?	iReady, EOC, EOG, PSAT, SAT, AP, Mastery Connect, and MAP data.

What does your achievement data tell you?	We are making great strides in improving scores in low performing areas such as physical science and US History. We are only able to look at iReady for math at this point. Sixth, seventh, and eighth grade has improved significantly.
---	--

What demographic data did you use?	EOC and EOG data.
------------------------------------	-------------------

What does the demographic data tell you?	Comparatively, the data reflects that there is a deficit in language, craft and structure, integration of knowledge and ideas, and vocabulary domains.

3. NEEDS IDENTIFICATION AND ROOT CAUSE ANALYSIS

3.1 Strengths and Challenges Based on Trends and Patterns

Read the trends and patterns summaries from each section of the data analysis process. Use the information in these summaries to complete 3.2 and 3.3. Using the summaries in 3.1 and other local data, describe the strengths and challenges or answer the guiding questions for each program. Include strengths and challenges related to: a) general program implementation, and b) students and adults involved in or affected by the program. Focus on strengths and challenges that will assist in the identification of needs during 3.2. Watch the Identifying Need webinar for additional information and guidance.

Strengths and Challenges Based on Trends and Patterns

Coherent Instructional: Summarize the coherent instructional system trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	This deficit is in language, craft and structure, integration of knowledge and ideas, and vocabulary domains to close the gap and address this need, leadership will provide teachers with instructional tools, observations, and timely feedback. Leadership will need to continue to monitor this process, with fidelity, to ensure the success of this initiative.
Effective Leadership: Summarize the effective leadership trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	Leadership will need to continue to monitor CMA, iReady/MAP, and teacher created assessment data to track the progress of this goal. Leadership will need to implement consistent observations of instruction and feedback to ensure progress toward the goal.
Professional Capacity: Summarize the professional capacity trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	There are observable areas of growth identified within Professional Capacity including teacher attendance and consistency in instructional planning and execution. Students need to be accountable through consistent teacher enforcement of school policies and regulations. Leadership will reinforce expectations and gather feedback to support teachers in maximizing instructional impact by effectively managing classroom interactions.
Family and Community Engagement: Summarize the family and community engagement trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	There are needs to increase family communication between school and home including SEL, assessment, and extra curricular opportunities at the classroom and building level.

Strengths and Challenges Based on Trends and Patterns

Supportive Learning Environment: Summarize the supportive learning environment trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	Leadership will have a monthly meeting with teachers to review data and develop individual plans for students. The review of this data will also help Leadership identify the individual students and track those students' progress or assist in modifying plans to promote students' growth.

Demographic and Financial: Summarize the demographic and financial trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	While reviewing the data it was discovered that the African American/Black subgroup had lower achievement than their peers. The specific area of need identified by for all students, including this specific subgroup, was informational text. To identify teachers with needs, leadership will conduct period long observations to identify teachers in need of support. Once identified, leadership will develop an observation/conference schedule to assist teachers with growth. This will also allow leadership to identify the areas in which they need to monitor. A checklist will be created and monitored to determine the fidelity with which leadership is following their plan.

Student Achievement: Summarize the student achievement trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	After reviewing the previous three year student data, 6th-8th GMAS Math has not achieved sufficient growth and was identified as an area of focus. Student Lexile levels from American Literature EOC data showed a need to concentrate on reviewing instructional strategies for informational texts across all subject areas.

	need to have equity with their peers. Ms. Castro works closely with our school to address any needs that arise with our ESOL students. Currently, our ESOL students have been very successful. However, Ms. Castro and school leadership continue to monitor these students and make necessary adjustments.

Challenges	We have population of diverse students with varying needs. It is difficult to assist our students immediately with resources and be aligned to the district's specifications. Having a plan to provide our students with basic needs as they arise is problematic. Ensuring that we have appropriate translation in a timely fashion for our ESOL families can sometimes be a challenge, given the number of languages we serve. Teachers need additional support to provide students with flexibility to overcome presented barriers.

3. REQUIRED QUESTIONS

Required Questions

1. In developing this plan, briefly describe how the school sought advice from individuals (teachers, staff, other school leaders, paraprofessionals, specialized instructional support personnel, parents, community partners, and other stakeholders).	In May 2023, meetings were conducted with each department to look at data and discuss root causes. In June 2023, that information was brought to the SIP 3-Day work session. The SIP Team compared data over the last few years to hone in on the pertinent data points. The plan will be brought to the Leadership Team in July 2023 and then brought to the entire faculty and stakeholders to review and give feedback. The plan will be shared with all stakeholders in August of 2023.

3. REQUIRED QUESTIONS

3.2 PQ, Federally Identified Schools, CTAE, Discipline

Required Questions

5. If applicable, describe how the school will support, coordinate, and integrate services with early childhood programs at the school level, including strategies for assisting preschool children in the transition from early childhood education programs to local elementary school programs.	N/A
6. If applicable, describe how the school will implement strategies to facilitate effective transitions for students from middle grades to high school and from high school to postsecondary education including: Coordination with institutions of higher education, employers, and local partners; and Increased student access to early college, high school, or dual or concurrent enrollment opportunities or career counseling to identify student interest and skills.	The school implemented 6th Grade Academy for students transitioning to the 6th grade. This two day summer initiative helps rising 6th graders gather an understanding of the happenings at Davidson. Students also are assigned an older Buddy from the 10th grade class who meets with them throughout the year for academic, social, and emotional assistance in navigating through our school. Students in 6th grade have morning meetings once a week to go over helpful traits in the Leader in Me resources and that is reinforced in class. Additionally, the 6th graders will be welcomed by the whole school during the first week in order to ease the transition from various feeder schools and will participate in a buddy mixer to meet and receive advice from their assigned buddies during the first few weeks of school. Seventh grade students go through a series on Growth Mindset and the 8th grade students work with Franklin Covey's book, Seven Habits of Highly Effective Teenagers. This gives all students in the grade the same terminology and support system. Counselors are also involved in classroom guidance and hold individual sessions with students who are not adjusting well.
7. Describe how the school will support efforts to reduce the overuse of discipline practices that remove students from the classroom, specifically addressing the effects on all subgroups of students.	The school uses the above-mentioned support as well as goal setting for personal and academic achievement. All students are involved in at least one fine arts program in the school which connects them to an area that helps students feel accepted and a part of the school. When students get in trouble, administration looks to restorative practices first as well as school community service.

ADDITIONAL RESPONSES

8. Use the space below to provide additional narrative regarding the school's improvement plan.	To further support the whole child, all teachers and faculty are active participants in fine arts performances and events in order to provide support for students' fine arts as well as engage in the culture and climate of the school. Participation in these events is widespread, contributing to a greater sense of support from teachers as well as engaging students in the classroom. Parents are encouraged to participate actively in school events and culture with regular communication of events and school engagement opportunities.
