Monday (8)	I am reviewing my understanding of the essential parts of argumentative writing.  I am reviewing the excerpt from Texas v. Johnson Majority Opinion. I can identify the essential parts to an argumentative text.  I can identify rhetorical devices and appeals in an argumentative text.	Do Now: Note Brennan's metaphorical description of free speech as a "joust of principles" in paragraph 1. Another common one is the "marketplace of ideas." What other metaphors could be used to describe free speech? Think of other comparisons, analogies, or similes in addition to metaphors. [Option 1]  Do Now: Answer the following:  • An idea is implicit if the author assumes readers will understand it even though it is not stated directly. How do Brennan use the state's implicit assumption to support his argument?  • Confirming or stating again that something is correct would be reaffirmation. Why does Justice Brennan make a reaffirmation (paragraph 4)?  • Justice Brennans says the nation's ability to return to normal after a disturbing event is proof of is resilience. Explain the use of resilience in paragraph 4. [Option 2]	Modeling w/ Think Aloud: Analyze the first sentence in paragraph 2 with special attention to the word "however."  Probing Question: What two opposing ideas are communicated in the sentence? [Option 1] Instruction: Gallery Walk and Questions [Option 2]	Guided Reading w/ Probing Question: Mark the claim in paragraph 3 about the consequences of the decision. How does Brennan use a court case from the past to support his claim? [Option 1]  Call/Response: To check for understanding, review the assigned questions on page 70. Rephrase each question in your words. [Option 2]	Read Aloud w/ Guided Notes/Annotations: With a partner, read and annotate/note the following:  In paragraph 1, mark the metaphor. Explain how this metaphor. Explain how this metaphor sets the stage for his In paragraph 2, mark/note Brennan's opinion about the government's role in the treatment of the flag. Identify the two important principles Brennan tries balance in his opinion.  Mark/note the claim in paragraph 3 about the consequences of the decision. Explain how Brennan uses the court case from the past to support his claim. [Option 1]  Gallery Walk: In groups of 3-4, answer the questions posted around the room. After discussing, write your answers in complete sentences. [HMH pg. 70, questions 1, 2, 3, and 4] [Option 2]	n/a	One Sentence Summary: Summarize Brennan's argument and evidence in one sentence. Use the sentence starter below to help you if you're stuck.  Using
