2. DATA COLLECTION ANALYSIS

2.6 Data Analysis Questions

Analyze the LEA's data and answer the guiding questions to determine existing trends and patterns that support the identification of demographic and financial needs. Student subgroups with a count of less than 15 are denoted by "TFS" (too few students).

What perception data did you use? [examples: student perceptions about school climate issues (health survey, violence, prejudice, bullying, etc.); student/parent perceptions about the effectiveness of programs or interventions; student understanding of relationship of school to career or has an academic plan]	We looked at our Panorama SEL data, and feedback from our Title I input meetings.
What does the perception data tell you? (perception data can describe people's knowledge, attitudes, beliefs, perceptions, competencies; perception data can also answer the question "What do people think they know, believe, or can do?")	The perception data tells us that 90% of our students scored favorable for supportive relationships, 57% favorable for social awareness, 58% favorable for self-management and 54% favorable for growth mindset.
What process data did you use? (examples: student participation in school activities, sports, clubs, arts; student participation in special programs such as peer mediation, counseling, skills conferences; parent/student participation in events such as college information meetings and parent workshops)	Student participation in school activities (clubs), students participation in counseling, peer mediation, parent surveys and workshops.
What does the process data tell you? (process data describes the way programs are conducted; provides evidence of participant involvement in programs; answers the question "What did you do for whom?")	We learned that we need to revise how we do our clubs and define a clear purpose for them. In order for the clubs to be successful, there has to be buy-in and consistency from the adults. We also learned that students enjoyed individual and/or group counseling. Students would often request a group counseling sessions. We attribute this to the relationships we built with students. We also learned we needed to conduct parent workshops more frequently and vary topics.

What achievement data did you use?	We used the following data: GMAS, iReady, lexile, CMA's and progress/report card grades
What does your achievement data tell you?	The data tells us the our largest subgroups of Black, white and SWD students are primarily scoring below developing in Reading and Math but most significantly in math. 60.96% of our students scored at the beginning level as measured by GMAS and 54.39% of our student scored at the beginning level in ELA and 70.37% of students scored at the beginning level in Science. In all grade levels except 3rd and Kindergarten, the percent of students reading below grade level as measured by iReady is less than 50%. In math, only Kindergarten students have more than 50% of the students performing on grade level. There is an indirect correlation between the students who are passing their classes for the year and passing that content area's Georgia Milestone Assessment.
What demographic data did you use?	Ethnicity, age, gender
What does the demographic data tell you?	The data tells us that the majority of our Black, white and SWD students are performing below grade level and our males and females are performing at the same level.

3. NEEDS IDENTIFICATION AND ROOT CAUSE ANALYSIS

3.1 Strengths and Challenges Based on Trends and Patterns

Read the trends and patterns summaries from each section of the data analysis process. Use the information in these summaries to complete 3.2 and 3.3. Using the summaries in 3.1 and other local data, describe the strengths and challenges or answer the guiding questions for each program. Include strengths and challenges related to: a) general program implementation, and b) students and adults involved in or affected by the program. Focus on strengths and challenges that will assist in the identification of needs during 3.2. Watch the Identifying Need webinar for additional information and guidance.

Strengths and Challenges Based on Trends and Patterns

Coherent Instructional: Summarize the coherent instructional system trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	A systematic, collaborative process is used regularly for curriculum planning. We started the year with 3 days of collaborative planning and then we reduced it to two days during the second semester. This year we will begin with three days as well. Two days will be for instructional planning and one day will be designated specifically for intervention planning. The district does a phenomenal job of designing curriculum documents and resources are aligned with the intended rigor of the required standards. Teachers need to a better job of exposing students to the rigor of the standards as opposed to lowering the depth of knowledge. A supportive and well-managed environment conducive to learning is evident in most classrooms. We have applied to become a PBIS school and will be implementing our version of Ron's Clark's house system this school year. We are also collaborating with Iantha Ussin for professional learning on classroom management utilizing her book, "Your Classroom or their Playground." Our teachers need to work on creating a learning environment that is academically challenging. This will be addressed as we are also working to improve Tier 1 instruction. Establishing and communicating clear learning targets and success criteria aligned to curriculum standards is an area of concern that we made a lot of progress on this past year and look forward to building on it this year. We will also continue to build their repertoire of effective, research-based instructional practices that positively impact student learning. Differentiation is an area of concern for us and has been addressed as a goal to include action steps in our SIP for this upcoming school year. We use technology to substitute not enhance learning. We are working on a plan to help teachers get better at modification and redefinition so that they can pass the learning on to the students. More teachers need to use the language of the standard when giving feedback so that students can know specifically what they did well on and what skill they need to improve in. We are in the process of creating an environment for students to be able to better monitor their own progress and receive timely, systematic, data-driven interventions.

Strengths and Challenges Based on Trends and Patterns

Effective Leadership: Summarize the effective leadership trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	Our leaders do a great job of building and sustaining relationships to foster the success of students and staff. There is room to improve in improving staff performance and student learning as well as ensuring effective implementation of curriculum, assessment, instruction and professional learning practices. There is a process in place to analyze data but it needs to be expanded to include multiple sources of data and utilized more frequently. Numerous structures exist for staff to engage in shared-decision making and problem-solving. We did spend a lot of time this year focusing on school operations as well as student learning in leadership team meetings. This year, school operations will be addressed during faculty meetings so that we can solely focus on student achievement data. We have a common vision and mission but we need to do a better job of making sure it is effectively communicated so that they guide the continuous improvement process. Our SIP was created with input from various stakeholders and was monitored throughout the year and several updates/adjustments were made. We also monitor the use of available resources and allocate monies to be able to replenish them. Administration could do a better job of communicating rules, policies, schedules, and procedures. A plan is in place to improve communication and monitoring of the implementation. We provide a safe and nurturing environment for all students, faculty and staff. We do utilize protocols to help maintain the school campus and equipment.
Professional Capacity: Summarize the professional capacity trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	Our administrators do a great job of building leadership capacity through shared decision-making and problem-solving and they have adequate resources and systems in place to support and sustain professional learning. We learned we need to address and improve the process of the following: professional learning needs should be identified through a collaborative analysis process using a variety of student data, establishing a culture of collaboration among administrators and staff to enhance and improve performance, setting clearer expectations for professional learning that addresses their various learning needs, and monitoring and evaluating of professional learning needs to occur more frequently and lead to an improvement in staff practices and student learning.
Family and Community Engagement: Summarize the family and community engagement trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	The school has created an environment that welcomes, encourages, and connects family and community member to the school and most structures that promote clear and open communication between the school and stakeholders have been effectively established and implemented. We use numerous relationships and decision-making processes to build capacity for family and community engagement. Academic expectations are communicated by school staff regularly and carried out in various ways. We need to improve in the area of developing the capacity of families to use support strategies at home that will enhance academic achievement. We are familiar with family resources and regularly connects families to agencies.

Strengths and Challenges Based on Trends and Patterns

Supportive Learning Environment: Summarize the supportive learning environment trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	An environment conducive to learning is evident in most classrooms. We need to increase the number of teachers who have created an academically challenging environment. A plan is in place to help teachers successfully do this while improving Tier 1 instruction. We also need to increase the number of students who are actively monitoring their own progress. A plan has already been established to address this during this upcoming school year. Rules and processes are in place to maintain a safe and orderly learning environment. A sense of community is evident and a culture of trust exists. However, there is always room for improvement. We support the college and career readiness of students but we need to do a better job of providing the evidence. My staff loves the students and pours into them on a daily basis. We regularly recognize and celebrate the achievements and accomplishments of students. We will put the same amount of effort into staff this year. We have a common vision and mission that's been developed through a collaborative process but we need to focus on ensuring they are utilized to help guide the daily work and practices.

3. REQUIRED QUESTIONS

3.1 Stakeholders, Coordination of Activities, Serving Children, and PQ

Required Questions

1. In developing this plan, briefly describe how the school sought advice from individuals (teachers, staff, other school leaders, paraprofessionals, specialized instructional support personnel, parents, community partners, and other stakeholders).	Input was received from stakeholders during face-to-face meetings held in the spring along with surveys that were shared with all stakeholders. Selected members of the Leadership Team worked together June 13th, 14th and 15th to review last year's plan and the data (including Stakeholder surveys) for this year's plan. All Leadership Team members were involved in the evaluation of data (Annual State assessments, local screeners, local tests for mastery, and other pertinent data points). The plan will be brought back to the school for all faculty and staff to review and to share input as well as shared with school stakeholders for feedback. Based on the additional input and feedback, the plan may be revised.
2. Describe how the school will ensure that low-income and minority children enrolled in the Title I school are not served at disproportionate rates by ineffective, out-of-field, or inexperienced teachers.	The Human Resources and Federal Programs Departments of the Richmond County School System collaborate to ensure that children enrolled in Title 1 schools are not served at disproportionately high rates by ineffective, out-of-field, or inexperienced instructors. We will look at the School Improvement Dashboard equity data, which includes data factors about teacher effectiveness, experience, and background provided at the district and school level. We concentrate on identifying disparities, assessing district and school systems and programs that may have contributed to these injustices, and then adopt strategies/activities to alleviate those inequities. Our district improvement plan, which will include an equity component and improvement goals, will address the observed gaps. In addition, we assist school leaders in the scheduling process by giving statistics to help them make the best scheduling decisions for student achievement. To recruit elite talent, we conduct various career fairs, offer a virtual fair, attend college and university fairs, and use technology avenues. We also operate our Grow Your Own initiative in collaboration with our local university's Teach Richmond program. Stipends are available in high-need areas. We also used a PQ ESSA automated software to offer certification information, out-of-field status, and teacher suggestions for specific courses. The department of communication assists schools with branding and provides professional development to school interview panels.
3. Provide a general description of the Title I instructional program being implemented at this Title I school. Specifically define the subject areas to be addressed and the instructional strategies/methodologies to be employed to address the identified needs of the most academically at-risk students in the school. Please include services to be provided	This year, we will hire a math interventionist to help assist with our students who are not performing on grade level in math. iReady data is used to determine how the students are progressing and if the math domains are improving. The math interventionist reaches out to guardians or caregivers to share information about how to help at home. The best way to get better at math is to practice using real world scenarios. The math interventionist will work with students during the school day. for students living in local institutions for neglected or delinquent children (if applicable).

4. If applicable, provide a description of how teachers, in consultation with parents, administrators, and pupil services personnel, will identify eligible children most in need of services in Title I targeted assistance schools/programs. Please include a description of how the school will develop and implement multiple (a minimum of 2) objective, academic-based performance criteria to rank students for service. Also include a description of the measurable scale (point system) that uses the objective criteria to rank all students.	The RCSS will not have any Title I targeted assistance schools during the 2023-2024 school year. Targeted assistance schools may use funds received only for programs that provide services to eligible children identified as having the greatest need. In the event the district gets a targeted assistance school in the future, each targeted assistance Title I school will create a plan to assist the school and local educational agency to meet its responsibility to provide services to all identified students in the targeted-assistance program to allow them the opportunity to meet the state's challenging academic achievement standards.

3. REQUIRED QUESTIONS

3.2 PQ, Federally Identified Schools, CTAE, Discipline

Required Questions

5. If applicable, describe how the school will support, coordinate, and integrate services with early childhood programs at the school level, including strategies for assisting preschool children in the transition from early childhood education programs to local elementary school programs.	RCSS preschool students are exposed to Georgia's Bright from the Start Curriculum and the Head Start Curriculum. In the Spring of each year preschool children from early childhood programs and daycare centers visit the elementary schools. Preschoolers have an opportunity to visit and observe the school's prekindergarten and kindergarten classes. Near the end of the school year around the month of March, Pre-K students participate in a Kindergarten Round-Up which assesses them on kindergarten skills. A kindergarten orientation is also scheduled. Daycare Pre-K four-year olds in Head Start and RCSS Pre-K students are assessed three times per year using the Phonological Awareness Literacy Screening (PALS). Additionally, twice per year, four-year-olds at identified Head Start and RCSS PreK sites, are assessed using the Peabody Picture Vocabulary Test (4th edition) (PPVT-4). To ensure a smooth transition to RCSS schools, the results of these assessments are provided to teachers, administrators and parents, and are used to track student progress, identify strengths and weakness, plan instruction, and plan for student placement in Kindergarten groups and classes. A handbook for parents is provided to all Kindergarten students and parents. The book provides transition suggestions for both parents and students. Counselors provide ideas to ready students for Kindergarten, including reading suggestions and rituals and routines that would support a successful transition. Kindergarten teachers spend the first two weeks of school helping with easing student anxiety. Counselors provide support for each class as well. The district also provides regular training for Pre-K teachers and paraprofessionals on needed topics such as early literacy. This would be in addition to the regular training provided by Georgia's Bright from the Start. Students receive books three times per year. Teachers receive instructional materials and books for their classrooms along with professional learning on early literacy and writing instruction. Lastly, L4GA funds also help fund field trips for preschool age students in addition to field trips provided by Bright from the Start thus providing opportunities for students to travel beyond the confines of their neighborhoods and participate in culturally relevant experiences.
6. If applicable, describe how the school will implement strategies to facilitate effective transitions for students from middle grades to high school and from high school to postsecondary education including:Coordination with institutions of higher education, employers, and local partners; andIncreased student access to early college, high school, or dual or concurrent enrollment opportunities or	Not Applicable career counseling to identify student interest and skills.

7. Describe how the school will support efforts to reduce the overuse of discipline practices that remove students from the classroom, specifically addressing the effects on all subgroups of students.	In an effort to decrease class/school removal time, the district is working with school staff to offer a variety of supports and strategies. When students need time to calm down, a reflection or calming room may be used. This would include soft lighting and calming music or sounds. PE may include Yoga and breathing exercises to help students control themselves. Behavior Coaches were hired to work with students, parents, teachers and school administrators to implement effective practices aimed at increasing instructional time and reducing removals from class. District staff also partners with the Emory Autism Center, RESA, and GLRS for professional learning, modeling, and coaching in schools and programs where the data demonstrates elevated challenges with student behavior. District level Instructional Specialists are also working closely with teachers and school administrators to improve delivery of engaging instruction and alternative methods for managing classroom behavior for our students with disabilities as well as other student subgroups. MTSS Facilitators are working closely with teachers and school administrators to help students get the assistance that they need. Student engagement is an effective way to negate discipline issues. One form of engagement is ensuring that students have the use of technology within the classroom. In addition, RCSS is investing in Positive Behavior Interventions and Supports (PBIS), for all students. The PBIS Framework is being implemented in 31 schools across the district, with the remaining schools implementing "Essential Features of School Wide Behavior Expectations, through the lens of PBIS". The expectation is that over time, with training and coaching, all RCSS schools will implement the PBIS Framework. A PBIS District Data Team in the Office of School Climate regularly monitors discipline data for all schools and student subgroups, communicates with various stakeholders, including community members and members of the Department of Juvenile Justice, and work collaboratively with the CSRA RESA School Climate Specialist, to provide professional learning and coaching, to administrators, coaches and teachers. The PBIS Coaches (each PBIS School has a coach), attend monthly meetings with PBIS Coordinator to monitor discipline practices, receive professional learning, and collaborate and action plan around best practices. The PBIS Schools hold monthly PBIS Team meetings to solve problems around discipline data and action plans to ensure continued positive outcomes. A minimum of two times a year, the District PBIS Leadership Team also hosts meetings with all stakeholders to analyze system-wide discipline data trends and create Action Plans based on data outcomes.

ADDITIONAL RESPONSES

8. Use the space below to provide additional narrative regarding the school's improvement plan.	The Richmond County School System is committed to a continuous improvement cycle for System and School Improvement Planning. In this cycle, the system and schools review data and determine areas of greatest need through a comprehensive needs assessment. Then, root causes are examined, and initiatives are developed. The School Improvement Plan is evaluated at 60 days and 120 days. The Richmond County School System Leadership Team reviews data points and determines if the SIP (School Improvement Plan) goals are progressing. If goals are not progressing, the RCSS Leadership Team offers support to help the school move forward. At the end of the year, the school's Leadership Team will use State Assessment data and other pertinent data to determine if goals were met. One key component to examining this data is breaking it down to the student's names – not just looking at percentages or sub-groups. Knowing exactly who to target and how to intervene is critical in this process. The Continuous Improvement Cycle allows schools to determine if the schoolwide program has been effective based on student achievement data and to help determine if new initiatives and action steps need to be taken.
