Analyze the LEA's data and answer the guiding questions to determine existing trends and patterns that support the identification of demographic and financial needs. Student subgroups with a count of less than 15 are denoted by "TFS" (too few students).

What perception data did you use? [examples: student perceptions about school climate issues (health survey, violence, prejudice, bullying, etc.); student/parent perceptions about the effectiveness of programs or interventions; student understanding of relationship of school to career or has an academic plan]	Georgia Health Survey (Parent, Teachers, and Students, Infinite Campus, Parent Engagement and Teacher Capacity Results, Panorama, and SWIS.
What does the perception data tell you? (perception data can describe people's knowledge, attitudes, beliefs, perceptions, competencies; perception data can also answer the question "What do people think they know, believe, or can do?")	People want a voice and to be included in decision making, goal setting and progress of our school. Students especially, want a voice and would like to give their opinion towards school improvement and their individual improvement and progress. Most students understand expectations for academic and behavior. Student self-efficacy needs improvement and they believe they are respected by their teachers.
What process data did you use? (examples: student participation in school activities, sports, clubs, arts; student participation in special programs such as peer mediation, counseling, skills conferences; parent/student participation in events such as college information meetings and parent workshops)	GA Health Climate Data, SWIS, and Panorama.
What does the process data tell you? (process data describes the way programs are conducted; provides evidence of participant involvement in programs; answers the question "What did you do for whom?")	Guided supportive instruction and ways to effectively target student needs and behaviors.

What achievement data did you use?	Infinite Campus, iReady, Content Mastery Assessments, IXL data, and GMAS scores.

3. NEEDS IDENTIFICATION AND ROOT CAUSE ANALYSIS

3.1 Strengths and Challenges Based on Trends and Patterns

Read the trends and patterns summaries from each section of the data analysis process. Use the information in these summaries to complete 3.2 and 3.3. Using the summaries in 3.1 and other local data, describe the strengths and challenges or answer the guiding questions for each program. Include strengths and challenges related to: a) general program implementation, and b) students and adults involved in or affected by the program. Focus on strengths and challenges that will assist in the identification of needs during 3.2. Watch the Identifying Need webinar for additional information and guidance.

Strengths and Challenges Based on Trends and Patterns

Coherent Instructional: Summarize the coherent instructional system trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	A large population of students in grades 3-5 scored below grade level in vocabulary and overall comprehension. Student lexile was also an area in need of analysis and student growth. A trend noted was that the SPED population underperformed in all categories and attention to their performance is needed. It was noted that the SPED population made up 25% of testing grade student population. An overall view of the student population, students are strong in Geometry but are struggling in trends in Algebraic Thinking and Measurement and Data. Numbers and operations is the highest strand in all grade levels. So the question would be to examine correlation between i-Ready strands and Milestones data. Another wondering would be how did the level of experience of the teachers impact the student data. A lot of the teachers are also leaving for this year. Many of the new faculty members are transferring into the school. Strategic placements in every grade level of teachers currently in the building to help support new staff.
Effective Leadership: Summarize the effective leadership trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	There is a more strategic approach to teacher placement to ensure that there are experience in every grade level. Early learning grades are relatively stable. Processes and instructional strategies need to be implemented consistently and monitored frequently.
Professional Capacity: Summarize the professional capacity trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	Classroom observations and specific feedback for improvement. Tools and resources for implementation. Clarify misconception and make corrections based on student performance.

Strengths and Challenges Based on Trends and Patterns

Family and Community Engagement: Summarize the family and community engagement trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	New student and family population coming to school due to consolidation. We have a population of families that have needs outside the school. Increase parent engagement and attendance at meetings through possible incentives and rewards.
Supportive Learning Environment: Summarize the supportive learning environment trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	Offer professional learning to new teacher and teacher new to school. Collaborative planning periods have been established for discussion and feedback.
Demographic and Financial: Summarize the demographic and financial trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	Consolidated funding makes funding flexible and additional funds added for spending support. Rural population at school needs specific support. Explore needs in community and perspective and viewpoint of student and family homelife and levels of poverty.
Student Achievement: Summarize the student achievement trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	Intervention based instruction through RtI. Student attendance review. PBIS/SWIS data digs. MTSS processes communicated school-wide and through collab. planning times.

1. In developing this plan, briefly describe how the school sought advice from individuals (teachers, staff, other school leaders, paraprofessionals, specialized instructional support personnel, parents, community partners, and other stakeholders).	Teams (leadership team, YMCA meetings school council, admin team, MTSS team, attendance team, and parent involvement meetings) comprised of a diverse group of stakeholders met and discussed overarching needs, goals and priorities. These meetings were comprised of teachers, parents, administrators, support staff and community sponsors.
2. Describe how the school will ensure that low-income and minority children enrolled in the Title I school are not served at disproportionate rates by ineffective, out-of-field, or inexperienced teachers.	Thoughtful master scheduling has taken into account this demographic of students. Intentional steps were taken and action steps will support these demographics.
3. Provide a general description of the Title I instructional program being implemented at this Title I school. Specifically define the subject areas to be addressed and the instructional strategies/methodologies to be employed to address the identified needs of the most academically at-risk students in the school. Please include services to be provided for students living in local institutions for neglected or delinquent children (if applicable).	An extended learning program will be established and lower achieving students will be the focus on this instructional opportunity. Parent Involvement funds will be targeted to build capacity in parent stakeholders on how they can support their child at home with their studies. Literacy will be targeted by scheduling individual class meeting times in the media center with the media specialist and specific resources will be purchased and provided to offer targeted, intervention-based support in both Reading and Math.
4. If applicable, provide a description of how teachers, in consultation with parents, administrators, and pupil services personnel, will identify eligible children most in need of services in Title I targeted assistance schools/programs. Please include a description of how the school will develop and implement multiple (a minimum of 2) objective, academic-based performance criteria to rank students for service. Also include a description of the measurable scale (point system) that uses the objective criteria to rank all students.	With the leadership of our newly allocated MTSS Coordinator, we will be able to educate and monitor intervention based instruction in all grades. Title I funding will provide instructional resources and the Extended Learning program for additional instruction afterschool. The standards based grading system as well as the iReady diagnostic assessment will act as the scale and criteria for both math and reading support.
