

Tradition

Our school is steeped in rich history and traditions. ARC opened its doors in 1783 making it the oldest public school in Georgia and the fourth oldest in the county. The Academy has been housed at its current location since 1926. Graduates of The Academy include Carl Sanders (GA Gov), Joseph Lamar (supreme court judge), Pat Dye (coach), Judy Woodruff (PBS anchor), and James Longstreet (civil war general) just to name a few.

Academy of Richmond County

A global community of learners working together for the attainment of knowledge and wisdom for all

Sawubona

At ARC, we greet each other by saying “Sawubona,” a Zulu phrase meaning “I see you.” An appropriate response is “Ngikhona” which means “Because you see me, I am here.” For ARC, this philosophy drives all that we do because we believe that our humanity is inextricably bound in yours.

The Academy’s mission is to educate students to become lifelong learners and productive citizens who understand that other people, with their differences, can also be right.

Since 1783, we have been...

Academic Rigor

Students wishing to take an accelerated academic track may choose from a variety of honors classes, Advanced Placement courses, and the region’s only International Baccalaureate program.

The International Baccalaureate

The Diploma Program of the International Baccalaureate is a magnet school within a school that develops inquiring, knowledgeable and caring young people who help create a better and more peaceful world through intercultural understanding and respect.

Diploma candidates participate in the most rigorous academic program available in the United States taught from international perspectives while being judged against their peers all over the world.

IB students can earn up to a year of college course credit depending on the institution they attend after successful completion of IB exams. The @ARCIBProgram is #rigorworthdoing!

“As a military family, we are quite transient and one of our biggest worries is always about the new school. Our experience with the Academy of Richmond County has been wonderful. The teachers are engaging and offer a rigorous curriculum. There are a variety of sports to participate in and the coaches are willing to mentor their athletes. ARC offers academic and career courses that have not been available at any other school where we have enrolled our children. There is something for everyone here. It is a great place to be.”

~Laura Lamoureux, Parent
