Dear Future Historian,

I am honored by the opportunity to teach you AP World History this coming school year. Advanced Placement World History is a full year course that explores the expansive history of the human world. Students will learn information but also the critical thinking and problem solving skills necessary to analyze historical evidence. Five themes will be used as a frame of reference in a chronological study of World History. This course will be both rigorous and rewarding. Emphasis will be placed on preparing students for the AP World History Exam, which will be administered in May. An extensive selection of in-depth readings – including the textbook – and the writing of different types of essays will be stressed in this course. The ultimate benefits of this class will be an informed view of how the world has developed up to the start of the third millennium CE, the stimulation of intellectual growth, and the acquisition of important historical critical thinking skills. Advanced Placement classes provide students with an opportunity to engage in a rigorous curriculum that will better prepare them for college. Students are able to earn college credit for scores on the AP exam that range from a 3-5. The concept of AP World History is to focus on the big ideas, concepts, themes, and trends of history. Instead of focusing on minor events and occurrences, we will focus on the big ideas that have shaped world history and our world today.

The summer assignment gives students the ability to get a head start on the coursework that we will be covered at the beginning of the school year. The following assignments are MANDATORY, and must be completed before school starts. The course work will be graded and students will be tested on the content within the first two weeks of school. Be sure to read the assigned portions of the book thoroughly. DO NOT SKIM.

IF you have any questions or concerns, please feel free to email me at any time.

AP World History Course Description

In AP World History students investigate significant events, individuals, developments, and processes in four historical periods from approximately 1200 CE to the present. Students develop and use the same skills, practices, and methods employed by historians: analyzing primary and secondary sources; developing historical arguments; making historical comparisons; and utilizing reasoning about contextualization, causation, and continuity and change over time. The course provides six themes that students explore throughout the course in order to make connections among historical developments in different times and places: interaction between humans and the environment; development and interaction of cultures; state building, expansion, and conflict; creation, expansion, and interaction of economic systems; development and transformation of social structures and technology and innovation.

Disclaimer: The use of this book as a summer reading assignment in no way represents any endorsement by Mrs. Spires-Howe, Davidson Fine Arts or Richmond County Public Schools of the use or misuse of any of these beverages, alcoholic, caffeinated or otherwise. The book merely offers an interesting introduction to our year-long study of world history.

Part 2 : Overview of Ancient History and Classical History

AP World History covers historical events from 1200 CE to the present. To give our time frame historical context, students will watch a series of videos that discuss history from the dawn of existence to 1200 C.E. While watching the videos, complete the corresponding handouts. You can find the link to the videos and the handouts on Edmodo.
