2.6 Data Analysis Questions

Analyze the LEA's data and answer the guiding questions to determine existing trends and patterns that support the identification of demographic and financial needs. Student subgroups with a count of less than 15 are denoted by "TFS" (too few students).

What perception data did you use? [examples: student perceptions about school climate issues (health survey, violence, prejudice, bullying, etc.); student/parent perceptions about the effectiveness of programs or interventions; student understanding of relationship of school to career or has an academic plan]	Georgia Health survey data, Anecdotal teacher data, discipline data, Parental contact information, Panorama Data.

What does the perception data tell you? (perception data can describe people's knowledge, attitudes, beliefs, perceptions, competencies; perception data can also answer the question "What do people think they know, believe, or can do?")	Perception data indicates that some staff feel that community members such as students, parents are not a part of the school leaning community. Data also indicated that teachers do not have a voice in considering professional learning opportunities. Data indicated relative strengths in the area of leadership. Student survey data indicated that there were too many fighting incidents at the school.

What process data did you use? (examples: student participation in school activities, sports, clubs, arts; student participation in special programs such as peer mediation, counseling, skills conferences; parent/student participation in events such as college information meetings and parent workshops)	The team reviewed participation data from college information meetings and parent conference data. High School Needs Assessment information provided in one drive was also used.

What does the process data tell you? (process data describes the way programs are conducted; provides evidence of participant involvement in programs; answers the question "What did you do for whom?")	The data indicated that seniors in particular were more focused on college costs as we noticed higher levels of participation during FAFSA information sessions. Parent events did not muster the same participation rates and parent conferences were held mostly via phone.

What achievement data did you use?	Data gathered from classroom observations, walkthroughs, surveys, standardized tests and performance data from NWEA MAP assessment. were used to discuss and rate Butler High School in this area. EOC tsting data was also used in this area.

What does your achievement data tell you?	Achievement data indicates a lack of reading and math skills . NWEA MAP testing indicates that 35% of our students read and/or perform math tasks at grade level. EOC data indicates 30.4 of our students read at grade level.

What demographic data did you use?	Student attendance, race, and socioeconomic status were used to determine a rating in this area.

What does the demographic data tell you?	Demographic data indicates that Butler High school has a high minority population. We also noted that our school has a high transient population as well. Mobility rate for the 23-24 school year was 27.36.

3. NEEDS IDENTIFICATION AND ROOT CAUSE ANALYSIS

3.1 Strengths and Challenges Based on Trends and Patterns

Read the trends and patterns summaries from each section of the data analysis process. Use the information in these summaries to complete 3.2 and 3.3. Using the summaries in 3.1 and other local data, describe the strengths and challenges or answer the guiding questions for each program. Include strengths and challenges related to: a) general program implementation, and b) students and adults involved in or affected by the program. Focus on strengths and challenges that will assist in the identification of needs during 3.2. Watch the Identifying Need webinar for additional information and guidance.

Strengths and Challenges Based on Trends and Patterns

Coherent Instructional:Summarize the coherent instructional system trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	Black Non-Hispanic subgroup is the most prominent group at Butler High School. Concerns abound in all tested areas. Base concerns illuminate in relation to historical instructional practices especially in the area of Reading instruction. Alg. 1 performance indicated that 99% of our students scored either beginning or developing for the 22-23 school year. We are awaiting scores but do not anticipate substantial growth. Input was received from stakeholders during face-to-face meetings held in the spring along with surveys that were shared with all stakeholders. In June of 2024, the Leadership Team worked together to review last year's plan and the data (including Stakeholder surveys) for this year's plan. The team also reviewed of the 120 day SIP progress report. All Leadership Team members were involved in the evaluation of data (Annual State assessments, local screeners, local tests for mastery, and other pertinent data points). The plan will be brought back to the school for all faculty and staff to review and to share input. The plan will then be shared with school stakeholders for feedback.

Effective Leadership:Summarize the effective leadership trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	Leadership must collaboratively develop effective, research-based interventions with monitoring to ensure that students are being engaged by instructors and data is being used to make changes to instructional delivery as a result of data digs.

Professional Capacity:Summarize the professional capacity trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	Historical analysis of teacher data as it relates to student achievement must be considered for master scheduling decisions. Efforts have been made in scheduling the most needy students with the most qualified teachers, especially in EOC tested courses. We have also used consolidated funds to hire an instructional specialist for the 24-25 school year. We are curently seeking an additional reading instructor.

Strengths and Challenges Based on Trends and Patterns

Family and Community Engagement:Summarize the family and community engagement trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	Student conference data, sign in sheets at Title 1 events noted that parents are reluctant to participate in academic events. Anecdotally however, we have noted that some athletic events garner extensive community support and attendance. Our prom generated parental involvement as we had great turnout. We will schedule more community events during the 24-25 school year. Parents Nights continue to attract roughly 10% of our parents.

Supportive Learning Environment:Summarize the supportive learning environment trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	Supportive learning environment was rated as Emerging. Typical replies indicated that some teachers cultivate a supportive learning environment but this is not the norm.

Demographic and Financial:Summarize the demographic and financial trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	Title 1 support is critical in continuing the mission of Butler High School. Technology support and extended family liaison involvement is vital to the acamedic and social welfare of our students.

Student Achievement:Summarize the student achievement trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	Students continue to show a flat trend in the areas of Math and Reading proficiency. This trend data will help leaders strategically place intervention in the areas of most need. The achievement data also will help teachers to set targets for learning to help foster a sense of positivity and focus lessons.

IDEA – Special Education, Economically Disadvantaged Children, and English Learners.

Using the summaries in 3.1 and other local data, describe the strengths and challenges or answer the guiding questions for each program. Include strengths and challenges related to: a) general program implementation, and b) students and adults involved in or affected by the program. Focus on strengths and challenges that will assist in the identification of needs during 3.3. Watch the Identifying Need webinar for additional information and guidance.

Strengths	The majority of students served by special education teachers are served in the inclusive environment. There are moderateSID/PID classes at Butler High school that serve a limited number of students. All students receive free or reduced lunch. All students benefit from the support of federal programs. English Language Learners also benefit by having an ELL instructor who is district provided to work with their unique needs.

Challenges	Challenges for all economically disadvantaged students include parental support, social and emotional support, as well as lack of exposure to upwardly mobile individuals. We use our AVID program to bridge some of these gaps. We continue to have the services of a Graduates Ready to Attain Postsecondary Success (GRASP) counselor. This position assists with monitoring and supporting the lower 10% of students at each grade level.

3. NEEDS IDENTIFICATION AND ROOT CAUSE ANALYSIS

3.2 Identification and Prioritization of Overarching Needs

Use the results of 3.1 to identify the overarching needs of the LEA. Determine the priority order of the identified needs based on data, team member and stakeholder knowledge, and answers to questions in the table below. Be sure to address the major program challenges identified in 3.1. Watch the Identifying Need webinar for additional information and guidance.

Overarching Need # 1

Overarching Need	Butler High School reviewed its Georgia Milestones EOC data and determined that ELA scores have remained stagnant for the past three years where 30.4% of students are reading on grade level.
How severe is the need?	High
Is the need trending better or worse over time?	No Change
Can Root Causes be Identified?	Yes
Priority Order	1

Additional Considerations	The team discussed a school-wide literacy focus to address the need.

Overarching Need # 2

Overarching Need	Butler High School reviewed the Georgia Milestones 8th grade Math EOG data and 8th grade Math iReady data and determined that students were deficient in Number Sense skills. How severe is the need?	High
Is the need trending better or worse over time?	No Change
Can Root Causes be Identified?	Yes
Priority Order	2

Additional Considerations	Butler High has assigned all Math teachers at least one Alg. 1 section. We have also added Alg. 1 support classes to the master schedule.

Overarching Need # 3

Overarching Need	Butler High School reviewed student and teacher attendance data for the past 3 years. 93% of teachers were absent 6 days or more. 41% of our students were absent at least 10% of their enrolled days.
How severe is the need?	High
Is the need trending better or worse over time?	Worse
Can Root Causes be Identified?	Yes
Priority Order	3

Additional Considerations	Butler High school will incorporate attendance tracking into the PBIS program, closely monitor OSS, and hire a part time clerk to assist the ART in sending out all needed correspondence to parents regarding attendance.

3. NEEDS IDENTIFICATION AND ROOT CAUSE ANALYSIS

3.3 Root Cause Analysis

Select the top 2-4 overarching needs from 3.2. Conduct a separate root cause analysis (RCA) for each need. Any RCA tools and resources can be used, but suggestions are available as part of the Identifying Need webinar. After describing the RCA process, complete a table for each selected overarching need.

3. REQUIRED QUESTIONS

3.1 Stakeholders, Coordination of Activities, Serving Children, and PQ

Required Questions

1. In developing this plan, briefly describe how the school sought advice from individuals (teachers, staff, other school leaders, paraprofessionals, specialized instructional support personnel, parents, community partners, and other stakeholders).	Input was received from stakeholders during face-to-face meetings held in the spring along with surveys that were shared with all stakeholders. In June of 2024, the Leadership Team worked together to review last year's plan and the data (including Stakeholder surveys) for this year's plan. All Leadership Team members were involved in the evaluation of data (Annual State assessments, local screeners, local tests for mastery, and other pertinent data points). The plan will be brought back to the school for all faculty and staff to review and to share input. The plan will then be shared with school stakeholders for feedback.

2. Describe how the school will ensure that low-income and minority children enrolled in the Title I school are not served at disproportionate rates by ineffective, out-of-field, or inexperienced teachers.	The Human Resources and Federal Programs Departments of the Richmond County School System collaborate to ensure that children enrolled in Title 1 schools are not served at disproportionately high rates by ineffective, out-of-field, or inexperienced instructors. We will look at the School Improvement Dashboard equity data, which includes data factors about teacher effectiveness, experience, and background provided at the district and school level. We concentrate on identifying disparities, assessing district and school systems and programs that may have contributed to these injustices, and then adopt strategies/activities to alleviate those inequities. Our district improvement plan, which will include an equity component and improvement goals, will address the observed gaps. In addition, we assist school leaders in the scheduling process by giving statistics to help them make the best scheduling decisions for student achievement. To recruit elite talent, we conduct various career fairs, offer a virtual fair, attend college and university fairs, and use technology avenues. We also operate our Grow Your Own initiative in collaboration with our local university's Teach Richmond program. Stipends are available in high-need areas. We also used a PQ ESSA automated software to offer certification information, out-of-field status, and teacher suggestions for specific courses. The department of communication assists schools with branding and provides professional development to school interview panels.

The master schedule has been reconfigured to incorporate Edgenuity into the content areas and not offer Edgenuity as a separate classroom where there was no ability for students to access new work. The most at risk students at Butler High School are identified by using several data points to include GMAS scores, NWEA MAP scores, as well as grades. A focus is in the Literacy area, more specifically on reading. Butler High

Also include a description of the measurable scale (point system) that uses the objective criteria to rank all students.	Targeted assistance schools may use funds received only for programs that provide services to eligible children identified as having the greatest need. Title I schools and consultants will collaborate to create a plan to assist the school and local educational agency to meet its responsibility to provide services to all identified students in the targeted-assistance program to allow them the opportunity to meet the state's challenging academic achievement standards.
