2. DATA COLLECTION ANALYSIS

2.6 Data Analysis Questions

Analyze the LEA's data and answer the guiding questions to determine existing trends and patterns that support the identification of demographic and financial needs. Student subgroups with a count of less than 15 are denoted by "TFS" (too few students).

What perception data did you use? [examples: student perceptions about school climate issues (health survey, violence, prejudice, bullying, etc.); student/parent perceptions about the effectiveness of programs or interventions; student understanding of relationship of school to career or has an academic plan]	Teachers and parents were provided surveys to gather the opinions, comments, and recommendations about our school building and progress. We also established a student advisory committee who meet regularly with administrators to discuss any issues and provide suggestions on how we could continue to improve our school community as well as discussing emerging trends in the student body.
What does the perception data tell you? (perception data can describe people's knowledge, attitudes, beliefs, perceptions, competencies; perception data can also answer the question "What do people think they know, believe, or can do?")	The perception data informed us that many of our stakeholders were excited about our school improvement goals and process. According to the data, many feel that the school climate has drastically improved to a positive environment that promotes a supportive academic, disciplinary, and physical environment; and encourages and maintains respectful, trusting, and caring relationships throughout the school community.
What process data did you use? (examples: student participation in school activities, sports, clubs, arts; student participation in special programs such as peer mediation, counseling, skills conferences; parent/student participation in events such as college information meetings and parent workshops)	GA Health Surveys, Title 1 Parent Input Surveys, e-walk, eleot data
What does the process data tell you? (process data describes the way programs are conducted; provides evidence of participant involvement in programs; answers the question "What did you do for whom?")	Update

What achievement data did you use?	i-Ready and GA Milestones Data
What does your achievement data tell you?	the i-Ready scores show that 49% of our students scored on grade level or above in Reading and 46% of them scored in grade level or above in Math. The data shows that we need to implement more interventions and small group instruction to increase the number of students in these areas. The GA Milestones results showed increases in the number of students scoring at or above grade level in Math and ELA.
What demographic data did you use?	The demographic data we used was the Power BI School Status Dashboard. We analyzed student attendance, discipline referrals, and student enrollment. We also analyzed teacher attendance data.
What does the demographic data tell you?	The demographic data showed that students missing 10 or more days increased each month. We had a total of 230 students who missed 10 or more days. These were mostly students in grades PreK - 1. Discipline referrals remained low throughout the school year.
