The Boston Massacre

It's the evening of March 5, 1770 in Boston in the British colony of Massachusetts. British soldiers are changing the guard at the Customs House where British taxes are levied and collected. A confrontation occurs between colonists and the soldiers, shots are fired, and three colonists are dead on the spot; two more die the next day. This event is called the Boston Massacre and it's easy to say that it was a cause of the American Revolution. What really happened and why?

Great Britain had spent huge sums of money waging the French and Indian War (1754-1763) in North America to gain control of more land. At the same time the British were fighting the related Seven Years' War in Europe. When the wars ended in 1763 Great Britain needed money and passed the Townsend Acts which heavily taxed everyday imported items like glass, paper and tea in the colonies. When these taxes caused unrest among the colonists, in 1768 Great Britain sent troops to Boston to maintain control and protect the tax collectors who levied customs duties on imported products. These soldiers could be assigned to live in private homes with the colonists. There was one British soldier in Boston for every four residents. Boston was an occupied city and tensions were high between soldiers and residents. There were frequent riots.

The Boston Massacre began with a nighttime confrontation between a youth and a soldier in front of the Customs House. A crowd gathered and grew larger when church bells were rung to get the attention of more men. The British soldier summoned help as well. Soon 400 men of Boston were throwing ice and snowballs at the soldiers defending the Customs House, daring them to fire their muskets into the crowd. Reports say that the officer in charge called out, "Don't fire!" In the confusion, shots were fired anyway.

The British immediately removed the troops from Boston and repealed the Townsend Acts in April 1770 except for the tax on tea. The officer in charge and nine soldiers were brought to trial about eight months later. Two soldiers were found guilty of manslaughter and all the others were acquitted. Boston remained quiet for several years. The Boston Massacre was later used as a rallying point by patriots who favored independence.

The Boston Tea Party

Taxes and other forms of revenue are needed for a government to operate. Money is always needed to build roads, maintain schools, and to finance all the other functions of a legitimate government. Citizens understand the need for fair taxes but they will protest if taxes are unfair, misused or too high. You might hear your family members or newscasters talk about how complicated taxes are today. Taxes were also complicated in Great Britain and the American colonies in the 1700s, especially taxes on tea.

New taxes on the colonies, including a tax on tea, were part of the Townsend Acts passed by the British Parliament beginning in 1767. The Boston Massacre that occurred in 1770 was a result of these taxes and parts of the Townsend Acts were repealed after it. A Tea Act was passed by Parliament in 1773 changing how taxes on tea were charged. Some of the members of Parliament argued against the colonial taxes on tea, not wanting further trouble after the Boston Massacre. The tax on tea for the colonists was not increased but the Tea Act gave the East India Company support from the British government to sell tea in the colonies over merchants who lived in the colonies.

In this complicated mix of taxes and events, seven shiploads of tea owned by the East India Company were sent to the ports of Boston, New York, Philadelphia and Charleston in the fall of 1773. The ships arriving in New York and Philadelphia were returned to England without unloading their cargo. The tea arriving in Charleston was seized by customs officials. In Boston, the royal governor insisted that the British laws be followed and that the taxes on the tea be paid. Colonial protesters wanted the ships to be returned to England without paying the taxes. On the last day that the loads of tea could remain in port without paying taxes, December 16, 1773, about 5,000 Boston citizens met and passed a resolution urging the ship's captain to sail without paying the tax. When the ships remained in port, that evening a group of men boarded the vessels and dumped the cargo of tea overboard. This act was called the Boston Tea Party.

The Boston Tea Party was a protest not against the tax on tea but against how Great Britain was ruling the colonies without any colonial participation. It was one of the events leading up to the American Revolutionary War.
