Patrick Andrew Joiner son of 6th grade Teacher Mr. B. Joiner goes on "The Tonight Show" during the 2017 "Fallonventions"

Fifth grader, Patrick Joiner, and son to 6th grade teacher Mr. B. Joiner was selected from a nationwide pool of students to appear on "The Tonight Show" during the 2017 "Fallonventions" segment that was aired on Wednesday, Sept. 6.

"Fallonventions" is an annual segment during which Jimmy Fallon gives young inventors the chance to show off their inventions. Patrick was selected for his invention "Rake Hands 5000."

Patrick created his invention during Westminster's annual fourth grade science project this past school year. Each year, the students are challenged to create an invention that solves a real-world problem which is then displayed at the annual Invention Convention at Westminster. Several students submitted their inventions to "Fallonventions" and Patrick was the only Westminster student selected to appear on the show.

His invention is designed to help people clean up their yards more quickly. Using the gloves, a person is able to move large loads of leaves or pine straw easily. His slogan is "Get yard waste out with haste."

National Bullying Prevention Month

October is National Bullying Prevention Month. Sponsored by PACER's National Bullying Prevention Center

More than 1 out of every 5 students report being bullied.

National Bullying Prevention Month is a nationwide campaign founded in 2006 by PACER's National Bullying Prevention Center. The campaign is held during the month of October and unites communities around the world to educate and raise awareness of bullying prevention. This campaign has grown from an initial week-long event to a worldwide effort with thousands of individuals participating in multiple activities throughout October.

Hundreds of schools, major corporations, and many celebrities have joined the movement. Take action and show that you care about kids being safe at school, while online, and in the community.
