This Month's Focus:
Hornsby's
Pre-K Students

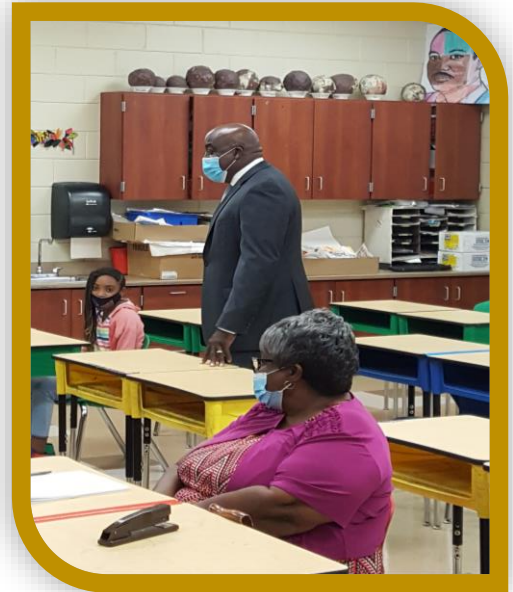

As a parent, you are your child's first and most important teacher. When parents and families are involved in their children's schools, the children do better and have better feelings about going to school. In fact, many studies show that what the family does is more important to a child's school success than how much money the family makes or how much education the parents have. There are many ways that parents can support their children's learning at home and throughout the school year:

- 🐾 Know your rights as a parent
- 🐾 Get to know your child's teacher
- 🐾 Involve yourself in their homework, class projects, and assignments
- 🐾 Ask your children about their day and what they have learned
- 🐾 Check bookbags daily for school information, meetings, social gatherings, homework
