Rollins’ students in grades four and five participate in the annual spelling bee and math club activities. The students can become immersed in math-related experiences as well as participate in the school district’s math competitions. The school has implemented various programs aimed toward increasing parental involvement. Several businesses work with the school to include Kroger and Panera Bread Company donating supplies for parental involvement activities. The Response To Intervention (RTI) supports the general education program at the school and it is composed of a team of professionals and parents. College and Career Ready Performance Index (CCRPI)

College and Career Ready Performance Index (CCRPI) is Georgia’s statewide accountability system. The CCRPI assesses how well students are prepared for college and careers and ensures that schools are focused on improving achievement among all students. The index measures progress on indicators such as content mastery, student attendance, and preparation for the next school level. Schools earn CCRPI points based on indicators that vary by grade and school level and align with measures of college- and career-readiness. Schools may earn up to a set number of points in three main categories, for a total of 100 possible points.
