Mr. Joshua Walton,

The honor of Valedictorian is the highest academic honor one can achieve in the realm of academia. You have worked hard not only this year, but every year. You put in the long nights, taking the rigorous courses, and giving your education the best you had to give. As the principal here at T.W. Josey Comprehensive High School, I am proud of you and your accomplishments. Mr. Walton, the honor is yours and you have earned it. Now it is up to you to take what you have to the next level.

Always remember you are an Eagle, and as an Eagle you possess certain qualities that others do not. You have vision. You have the ability to see a situation, problem, or task and process it correctly so that you can find the solution. See, an Eagle can fly up to 10,000 feet in the air. That's almost two miles. At that height, it can see everything around it. The eyesight of the eagle is so keen that it can fly high and see a fish in the ocean, go in for an attack run, and capture the fish that's over 10 feet under the water. The eagle can rise above the occasion when warranted and the has ability to get down and handle business when the job needs to be done. Mr. Walton, that is you. You have exemplified excellence inside of the school and outside of the school.

On behalf of the Faculty and Staff of T.W. Josey Comprehensive High School, we are proud of you and your accomplishments and we eagerly anticipate and await for you to soar to higher heights and to deeper depths.

Sincerely,

Dr. Chauncey A. Scott
Principal
