- The students have done such a great job diving into inquiry and discussion, as well as keeping socially distanced and mask wearing. Despite all challenges, they are rising to the occasion!

A Peek At What We Are Learning

Inquiry

In Inquiry we are continuing with the central idea of "who we are, and what we share, has impact!" Now that we've dug into identity, we are going to dive deeper into the civil rights movement and how our stories can have impact! We will also be moving into our new unit: How We Organize ourselves towards the end of the month.

Math

Now that we have some good data on where the students are in math, we are going to continue with our mental math skills, build up our place value understanding, and begin small groups to help hone in on student achievement!
